

Nursing Home Fines For Health and Safety Violations in Texas, 2014-Present

The Obama administration toughened fines issued to nursing homes found to be out of compliance with Medicare requirements in 2014. Encouraged by the health care sector, President Donald J. Trump started to rollback Obama-era regulations in 2017, lowering fines issued to Texas' nursing homes that endanger the safety of their residents.

